-Dante Genovesi

"The extinction of the Guamanian Eucalyptus tree tick."

-Erik Barry

"When Michael Jackson gave up his glove."

-Meredith MacPhail

When someone says "high school" to you in ten years from now, what image will come to mind?

"Sitting in physics class and looking at all the blank stares on our faces."

-Author Unknown

"Hairspray and tight jeans on girls; macho attitudes and bulging biceps on guys."

-Jennifer Stefano

"The cafeteria."

-Colleen McCollom

Best No Homework Excuses

I didn't feel good.

I was in the bathroom when it was assigned.

I left it at home.

My dog really ate it.

A terrorist group held my mom hostage and wanted my homework as ransom.

I'm a senior.

My leg hurts. (Chris Godfrey)

I thought it would be a snow day.
 I left it in my locker.
 What homework?
 My hand fell off.
 I got mugged.
 I can't read or write.
 My mom vacuumed it.
 My mom washed it.
 I left it in a friend's car.

Best Late For School Excuses

I slept late.
I ran out of gas.
I'm a senior.
I had four flat tires.
I thought school was cancelled.
I thought it was Saturday.
My electricity went out.
I thought the bell rang at 8:30.

I had to wait for my socks in the dryer.
 I'm David Luisi.
 I slept over Bobby Andy's house.
 My brother locked me in the bathroom.
 My mother had to dress me and tie my shoes.
 I can't afford an alarm clock.
 Car trouble (I don't have one!)
 My mother didn't want me to come, so I had to sneak out.

ADMINISTRATION

Office Of The Superintendent

TO: ALL SENIORS

FROM: JOSEPH LAINO

Dear Seniors:

It has been four years since we first met and I can say that it has been a pleasure for me as an educator to work with you and watch you grow into bright and intelligent adults. The Town of Winthrop is most fortunate to have young people like you to carry on their traditions.

I am proud of your accomplishments during the past four years and I know that you will all go on and make a positive contribution to our society.

Sincerely,

Joseph Laino

Debbie Kearns, Secretary

Office Of The Principal

To The Class of 1990:

Congratulations on the successful completion of your high school education. Your family, friends, teachers and the administration of Winthrop High School are very proud of you.

Please remember that your primary and secondary education are only a foundation of a life long education. Be assured that the doors of Winthrop High School and all of our resources will always be open to you.

The very best to every one of you.

Sincerely,

Joseph Mauro
Principal

Congratulations and best wishes to the first class of the last decade of the 20th century. Your education, ideas, values, and concerns will strongly influence the direction of the 21st century. Take with you the best of the old century and apply it to the new. May your future be bright and productive with your best years ahead of you.

Yours truly,

M. I. Boyle

What are your aims and goals for the History department in the high school as head of the department?

Maintain the commitment to excellence in teaching on the part of all our teachers with a mix of methods and materials as well as constant assessment of quality and quantity of each.

What are some of your accomplishments over the past years and what do you hope to achieve in the future?

We have moved our department from an elective priority of eclectic and top heavy choices once required to a required program of history and geography priorities with electives as reasonable alternatives. We have re-written the entire scope, sequence and skills of content and behavior necessary to individual success, survival and the promise for all to achieve excellence. The future will require more diligence for maintaining this fragile coalition in light of budgetary, demographic, political, and personal value shifts.

What will you be doing in the year 2000?

Hopefully, I will be a better, wiser, and active role model for my staff.

What are some of the changes/trends you have seen throughout the years?

The catastrophic cacophony of crud from callous media grubbers and the lack of detectors; and young people who believe it is truth, beauty, and all you need to know.

What are your aims and goals for the English department in the high school as head of the department?

I would like to introduce sometime a team teaching concept in conjunction with the Social Studies Dept. We constantly work to strengthen the Honors and AP program. We are creating a program that will assure all students will be literate by graduation.

What are some of your accomplishments over the past years and what do you hope to achieve in the future?

Accomplishments prove tenuous at best and are never achieved totally alone: I was a U.S. Marine (Korean War); Though a former high school dropout, I have earned two masters degrees; an MA in English literature (Boston College 1969) and an MA in Anglo-Irish literature (University College, Dublin-National University of Ireland, 1975). I have also earned my C.A.G.S. (all 30 credits are in English and American literature, except one course in French literature in the French language). I wrote, and had accepted, a 35 thousand word thesis on James Joyce and William Butler Yeats. Working in concert with the English teachers, I have initiated the Honors and AP program (one year at the National average;

3 years above National average for the AP English literature exam). I hope, with the assistance of my teachers, to keep our standards high.

What will you be teaching/doing in the year 2000?

If my students let me live that long, I shall become a recluse, no question. Just give me my Bix Beiderbecke, Glenn Miller, Bing Crosby, Beethoven, Mozart recordings and my gentle dog, and my baseball pictures - and I'll be happy.

What are some of the changes/trends you have seen throughout the years?

Though I don't quite remember the Battle of Bull Run, I can recall when movies cost ten cents (eleven cents on Saturday); inkwells fitted into round slots in stationary wooden desks which rested on hardwood floors. Every student used a fountain penn, and a rigid dress code prevailed (shirt and tie until June 1, when tie was removed). School was dismissed at 1:45pm, and trolley cars-not buses-dominated the main streets. Students rode bicycles to school. Parents may have driven us nuts, but they never drove us to school.

Mathematics is becoming more and more important in the fast-paced technological society in which we live. Employers are coming to expect more mathematical training from our high school graduates, and colleges are requiring a greater degree of mathematics preparation for entry into fields that were not previously thought of as mathematics oriented. These expectations, combined with the need for mathematics in our daily lives as a tool for the informed consumer, make the study of mathematics essential for the high school student.

The Mathematics Department at Winthrop High School has recently added courses at the advanced placement level to prepare students for entry into college majors requiring rigorous mathematical preparation. A new three-year mathematics requirement for high school graduation will broaden the choices of other students following their departure from Winthrop High School. Real-World Mathematics, a newly approved course for juniors and seniors, will enhance our graduates' ability to make sound financial and economic decisions in their everyday lives.

The goal of the Mathematics Department is to provide every Winthrop High School graduate with a mathematical background sufficient to allow him or her to make choices in an ever changing world. We must offer all graduates the opportunity to choose to earn a college degree, even at a much later period in their lives, by preparing them now with the necessary mathematical prerequisites. Graduates, who enter the world of work, must be mathematically prepared for choices which will offer them advancement. In addition, it is the intent of the Mathematics Department that each graduate be provided with a sound knowledge of the mathematical principles required to become a wise consumer.

What is a senior?

"A senior is a creature who, around May 31, realizes that he doesn't really want to leave WHS."

Mrs. Porreca

"A senior is one who has made a journey on a long road, gaining experience, knowledge, and attitude to use on another journey."

Mr. Nimblett

"A senior is a 'sine' of the times, always off on a 'tangent,' yet slowly progressing around the 'circle' of life. A senior is a joy to teach and to send forth to greater challenges. A senior is always remembered."

Mrs. Sullivan

"A senior is an adult-child about to enter the promised (threatened?) land."

Mr. Rosen

"A senior is a body in search of a person."

R.A. Sarno

"A senior is:

- that person you can't wait to be as a freshman
- that person you wish you still were as a graduate
- that person who knows everything, listens to nothing, and is never wrong about anything."

P. Cyr

"Seniors complain constantly about too much homework, but wish they had worked harder in high school. Seniors count the days to graduation, but cry when they graduate. Seniors can't wait to grow up, but don't understand adults. Seniors know exactly where they've been, but wonder where they're going."

William E. Lever

"A senior defies definition-generally, however, a senior usually runs the gamut between a soaring eagle and a monument to ignorance."

Ramon deRosas

Class Will 1990

I, Jennifer Randall, leave my duck tails to the basketball cheerleaders.

"Teaching is taking students from where they are and bringing them to where they should be — whether they like it or not." —Mr. Spinney

What is a teacher? I don't know if there is a single definite answer to this question. I only know how teachers feel. The one word I associate with all quality teachers is dedication. But, dedication raises fascinating questions about the good and bad that may mingle in such a fixed human purpose.

Our goal is not to debase students by making them subservient to some purpose or to a teacher, but rather to elevate them and enlarge them by enlisting them in the grand project we call education. Accordingly, teachers must be both tyrant and nursemaid, roles often linked together, from mothers to commanding generals.

Teachers are not callous or indifferent. Their work would be easy if they were so. They must care profoundly for their charges, but must act, on occasion, as if they do not. Students often don't understand the lonely role of responsibility. It is always of the best that we ask the most and what every parent sends us is their best. If we do our jobs, we feel all the pains and frustrations that come with growth, but, if done correctly, in the end we get our reward and become confidants and friends.

Gigi,

Congratulations! Best of luck. We love you.

Love,
Ma, Dad, & Elaine

Chris,

You've given me joy and happiness all of your life. I'm so proud of who you are and all you've done. Reach for the moon.

I Love You,
Mom

Billy,

Everything you've ever done has touched our hearts and made us proud of you. You are so special to us!

With love,
Mom & Dad

Dear Jon,

#15, "Kat's" on the prowl,
Here comes Jonny, hear them howl.
Then it's spring, and #9,
Boy, am I proud of that kid of mine!

We love you,
Mum and Dad

Joy,

Congratulations and good luck in all you do. You are forever in our hearts. We're so proud of you.

Love,
Mom

Bob,

Even though we are apart, I'll always be there if you need me. Congratulations and best of luck.

Love,
Dad

Hi Laurie!

You have accomplished so much in the past four years. You are so open to new experiences and determined to succeed. I am so proud of you. When you set your mind to it, I know you can do anything. Good luck in whatever you choose to do in the future.

Love,
Mom

Lynda,

I'm so proud of you. I wish you all the best as you journey toward a very happy, successful future.

All my love,
Mom

Congratulations Bonnie!

We wish you good luck in all your future endeavors. We love you and are proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Stephen

To my twin Julie Gavin,
"May all your pains be champagnes."

Love ya,
Auntie Mary

Congratulations Julie Gavin

Hold fast to your dreams. May your life be happy and healthy.

With love and Pride,
Mom, Dad, Michael, & Sandy

To Dante,

Whatever you can do, or dream you can, begin it. Boldness has genius, power, and magic in it. You've made us proud.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Holly,

Your imagination is your future-no limits or boundaries to hold you fast, except those self set.

Love always,
Dad

Congratulations Stephen,

You have worked hard and accomplished much. What a great son and brother you have been! Don't ever change.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Maura, & Sheila
